RETURNED MEN HAD SMOKER LAST NIGHT

Army and Navy Vets. Hall
Scene of Action.

FINE REFRESHMENTS.

Evening Whiled Away to the Tune of Old Army
Songs.

Last night a hundred odd returned men gathered in the Army and Navy Veterans' Hall and blew their troubles west in smoke.

The long club room was filled with small tables, around which the groups of pals gathered. Every table was a ration dump, and every man his own quartermaster. A generous issue of beer held the centre of the table, flanked by several battalions of Players up to full strength. Strong reserves of -crackers and cheese bravely supported the main body. Only remnants survived.

The attacking party went over the top at eight-fifteen, Adney timing the barrage at the piano. They reported no casualties, but the battlefield was soon covered with the dead of the enemy. The troops carried on in perfect unison. Four "Macs" sat around a table with an "O" on the seventeenth of March -- and all the "Macs" killed was the beer.

Wilkie followed Adney at the piano, and the old songs came back once more. "Blighty," "Good-by-e," "Sing Me To Sleep," "Call Out the Army and the Navy, But --," "If You Were the Only Girl in the World," "Let the Great Big World Keep On Turnin'," "There's a Long, Long Trail," "Give 'Jimmy' Rice kept the group 'Here's to Good Old Beer, Drink Her Down.' None of them had been forgotten.

"Jimmy" Rice kept the group amused for some time with a series of stories cleverly put across, and finished upon a special and noisy request from the majority of those present with his popular baseball monologue.

Eddie Landry tickled the boards--

D. COWAN ELECTED PRES. OF CERCLE

Election of Officers For 1921-
'22 Carried Out--Prof.
du Roure Spoke.

At a final meeting of the Cercle Francais held last night, an election of officers for the year 1921-22 took place, and the following officers were elected:

Hon. President--Prof. J. L. Morin.
President--D. Cowan.
Vice-President--C. J. G. Molson.
Secretary--M. Gaboury.
Treasurer--G. Webster.

F. H. Walters opened the meeting by a reading of the minutes of the previous assemblies, which were readily adopted by the members. The retiring president, M. H. Franklin, who has so ably filled the position during the past session, commented upon the various activities of the Cercle last year, which have made this club one of the leading social organizations of the University. He expressed regret over the fact that the attendance had not been sufficiently representative of the great number of French-speaking students in the University.

A debate which was to have taken place between the University of Montreal and McGill was postponed till next year, because one of the representatives of the French University could not be present, due to family bereavement. This outstanding event is something to look forward to next year.

Prof. du Roure was then called upon to make a few remarks. He spoke of the educational advantages of the Cercle and the regrettable fact that this was overlooked by the majority of students. There was not enough discussion by the individual members themselves, and he hoped that in the future this lack of personal expression from the students would be remedied.

After refreshments, the meeting was adjourned, which closes one of the most successful seasons that the Cercle has ever had.

INDOOR MEET TAKES PLACE COMING WEEK

Last Practice To Be Held
To-Night

5.00 AND 6.00.

Keen Competition Among Contestants is Expected.

Coach Van Wagner has fixed next Monday and Wednesday for the indoor Track Meet. For the last two weeks, the men have been working hard on the various events and have made considerable progress. Some of the men, having had previous experience, showed up better than others at first. All have developed, and the meet will be strenuously contested.

The events should consist of potato races, high and broad jumps, shot put, and vault. These are the events that have been worked on by the men, and as the most of the time has been spent on the high jump and the potato race, the keenest competition is expected in these events.

To-night, Friday, there will be another practice at five and six o'clock. As this is the last before the meet, the men are expected to make a good showing, and a larger number may stay the two periods.

On Wednesday last, some fifty men turned out and went through a good workout. More time was spent on the jumping after 6.00 p.m. than on any other event.

After the meet, the coach expects to begin training outside, weather permitting. It is scarcely possible that the snow and cold weather can stay with us much longer, and all the men are looking forward to outside work.

WESTERN CLUB MEETS MONDAY

Annual Elections, Refreshments, 8.15 p.m.

We know of nothing more pleasant, after the long worry of elections, than the delightful "tang" which can be imparted to the palate by the taking of refreshments, of which none can be classed more highly than those provided by the Union. Coupled with the fact that one need not go to all the trouble of putting on one's coat, etc., to go to get them, this should make the meeting on Monday night of special interest.

At 8.15 p.m. on Monday, March 21st, there is to be a meeting held in the Union of the men from the four Western Provinces, for the purpose of electing an executive to represent the Western Club for the coming College year and to wind up the business and activities of the past year.

This meeting is to be followed by refreshments of the usual high standard Union quality and digestion, favored by the presence of a couple of musicians and other possible music with the probability of further entertainment by some of the best talent in the city, of which the executive is now trying to get hold.

This, together with the fact that the Club funds are such that they allow of a "free" evening, should make of the evening an entertaining and profitable one, and should combine to make the attendance of members a record one for the year.

The executive is anxious also that there be a full turn-out at this, the last meeting of the year, so that every member will be given ample opportunity of expressing his opinion regarding the election of the incoming executive, to formulate plans, and to put forward any ideas for the making possible of a bigger and better Club for the coming year.

In all, it would be only the giving of good advice, and sound, to the Western contingent were we to say, "Keep Monday night open and go to the Union, spend a very pleasant and enjoyable evening--and nothing more--and see if you cannot cast your vote in your friend's favor."

THE WILL TO WIN

Yesterday afternoon over forty men turned out at the Union to take part in an indoor football practice. Of these by far the larger number had never taken any previous active part in college football, and to some the occasion marked their first experience of the "feel" of a pigskin.

Such a display of interest and enthusiasm augurs well for our success on the grid, next fall. The change in the rules which will be adopted for the first time offers to the new recruits an opportunity of getting into the game on an equal footing with the older men, saving of course the advantages these latter possess in the way of experience.

The splendid turn-out yesterday, however, was chiefly significant as showing the spirit in which McGill is looking forward to next season's encounters. This year we were unsuccessful in our efforts to annex the Inter-Collegiate Championship. Instead, however, of wasting time in bemoaning that fact, a large number of men turned out yesterday, ready to show that they are prepared to spare no effort in fitting themselves for a place on next year's team. We feel assured that had last season resulted in McGill being once more returned champions, the same spirit and enthusiasm would not have been shown. Next year is to be the occasion on which we are going to achieve better things and that sentiment is one which is valuable in other fields than college athletics.

GREAT PROGRAMME FOR OLD SCOUTS

Dinner, Business Meeting and Theatre Party Arranged For Saturday.

Preparations have been completed and now everything is in readiness for the last gathering of McGill Old Scouts, which is to be a combined social and business meeting. Practically every member of the club has signified his intention of being present. A supper has been arranged for at the Union, and tickets have been received for the Princess Theatre. With a big turnout already assured, this event will undoubtedly prove the biggest and the most enjoyable one in the annals of the club. Saturday, March the 19th, should be a "pink envelope" day for every member.

For the tardy individuals, and they are few, who so far have failed to give their names to the committee in charge, a few days' grace is allowed. Any such delinquents might get in communication with Mr. A. B. Strong, Engineering Building, immediately, otherwise he might be obliged to share some other member's meal at the Union, or perchance sit on someone's lap at the show, which is not being done in the best of theatres or unions these days.

Be prepared, old sports, and be at the Union, 6 p.m. sharp, Saturday, March 19th, to partake of everything from oyster cocktails to demi-tasse. Seriously speaking, we ask you also to keep in mind the election of officers and to be prepared to vote as you think fit and to express your opinion regarding the policy and activities of the club for next session.

Boost the "Daily" when you buy. And do your shopping early.

An anti-alcohol society has been formed by the women of Mexico City who plan to form similar societies throughout the republic.

R. V. C. NOTES

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

There will be no Dancing Class to-day at 2 o'clock.

(Signed) G. M. WOOD.

There will be no Classes in Gym-Practice to-day (Friday) at 1.30 except in the Strathcona Trust course.

There will be a Hockey Relay Practice to-day (Friday) at 1.30. Everyone must turn out.

Are you thinking of becoming a Banker? If you are, here is your opportunity to receive some information on the subject.

Students who would care to hear something about Banking as offering suitable employment for women students, either for temporary appointment during the summer or for more permanent occupation as graduates, will have an opportunity of hearing some first-hand advice on the subject from Sir Frederick Williams Taylor, of the Bank of Montreal. The latter has offered to come to the College one afternoon next week at 5 o'clock. Miss Hurlbatt will be glad to hear which afternoon is likely to suit the students, and will be glad if students interested will come to tea with her to meet the speaker.

As quite a number of girls have had at least a little experience of banking, it is expected that a goodly number will avail themselves of this excellent opportunity of listening to one of vastly greater experience than their own in such an extensive field as that of banking.

FOOTBALL CLUB.

There will be a joint meeting of the old and new football executives held in the Union to-day at five o'clock. All members of both executives are requested to attend.

NOTICES

BASKETBALL.

To-day at 5 o'clock a general meeting of all basketball enthusiasts will be held in the Music Room of the Union. The chief business will be the election of officers for next season. This is a departure from former years, but it is necessary if McGill teams wish outside competition. Many inquiries from American college teams have been received during the last few days asking for games next season, and it is important that a new executive be elected to make plans for next season. So be on hand to-day at 5 o'clock.

SONG BOOK COMMITTEE.

There will be a meeting of the Song Book Committee to-day, Friday, 18th, at 5 p.m., in the Union Lounge Room. All members of the executive are requested to be present as business of importance is to be discussed.

HARRIER CLUB PLANS BANNER FALL SEASON

R. L. Hamilton Resigned Presidency.

G. STEPHENS, PRES.

Start Activities Early in the Autumn—Prospects Good.

The Harrier Club last evening proved to all that it is not going to fall into the background in the coming season, since it met in the Union to consider plans for the future and to conduct other business.

R. L. Hamilton called the meeting to order, and, to the decided regret of all, presented his resignation to the executive. The late president has always shown as deep an interest in harrier work as he has in his other phases of collegiate life, and although he still offers the club his warm support, yet the demands for "Hammy" in other circles have made it impossible for him to carry on as president.

The office was filled by Gordon Stephens, of Sci. '23, who has accomplished much in athletics during the past season.

"Steve" Stephens immediately set the wheels moving when he laid plans for next fall. Letters are to be sent to all prospective harriers, and every means, both in advertising and in notices, will be used to ensure an early and large turnout of long distance runners.

It was felt that one of our weak points last fall was in the lack of interest taken by the student body as a whole. At their inter-faculty meet, Varsity had an entry list of 99 men, against our 16 at McGill; so, in the future we intend to have this sport fostered to the limit and want the attractions of our club to be laid fully before the students, as it is beyond a doubt one of the healthiest and best branches of exercise which are on the athletic programme.

The inter-faculty race will be staged in the last part of October, and the winners will receive medals. But medals are not the only attraction which the club offers, but the physical advantages.

LT.-COL. MAGEE, D.S.O., RESIGNS

Major D. H. Macfarlane, M.C. in Command.

The resignation of Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee, D.S.O., as Officer Commanding the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., was announced yesterday.

Lieut.-Col. Magee has been Officer Commanding since the re-organization of the corps in January, 1919. During the first two years of the war, Lieut.-Col. Magee was second in command of the McGill Battalion, and in 1916 organized and took to England the 148th Battalion, C.E.F. Throughout his connection with the C.O.T.C., Lieut.-Col. Magee has worked enthusiastically for the good of the corps, and his resignation is sincerely regretted.

Pending the appointment of a new Officer Commanding, Major D. H. Macfarlane, M.C., will command the Contingent.

CONCERT HELD IN THE R.V.C. LAST NIGHT

Miss Alice Delagneau.

Violin Solo—

Jole d'Amour . . . . . Kreisler
Miss Marjorie Silcock.

Songs—

Miss Ella Pinsler.

Pianoforte Solo—
Caprice . . . . . Paderewski
The Naiades . . . . . Farjeon
Miss Marion Huff.

The programme, as on all former occasions, was very varied. The older composers, such as Schumann and Mozart, did not appear, but were replaced by more modern writers.

The pianoforte solos were perhaps a little more advanced than on former occasions, the students performing, for the most part, were those studying for the higher examinations.

The introduction of a violoncello solo was greatly appreciated by the audience. The three violinists played with ease and ability, and their solos were enjoyed by all.

The vocal selections are not to be set aside; they too showed advancement.

There are still two concerts of the Conservatorium, one to take place in May at the Royal Victoria College. A very interesting programme has been arranged.

TRACK CLUB SETTLE MUCH AT MEETING

Not Sending Team to Penn.
Relays.

SPORTS ON OCT. 14.

W. R. Kennedy Captain—
Plan Special Events at Sports.

Yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of the Track Club held in the Union at which several items of information were taken up and action decided upon.

After hearing the pros and cons as to the advisability of sending a team to represent McGill at the Penn. Relays, which will be held towards the end of April, it was unanimously felt that, owing to the near approach of exams, the interruptions which such a partaking would involve, both in training and time spent going to the meet, the matter be dropped. Although it would mean much credit and benefit to the University to be represented at this large assembly of American and European universities, yet the consensus of opinion at the Track Club pointed that it was choice between failure in exams versus athletics. Thus we will not send a team.

The second matter was the election of a captain for the Track Team. It was deemed best to fill that office in the spring, so that interest in training be given every opportunity to be started as early as possible in the fall. Kennedy was elected to that position by acclamation. Kennedy is one of the senior men of the club, and has won no small amount of fame in athletic fields.

The appointment of assistant manager has been left to the executive.

The feasibility of staging an inter-scholastic track meet early in the summer was seriously considered, and this is to have the strict attention of the executive, who realize in no small way the advantages which such a gathering of local schoolboys would afford. Undoubtedly, many of the prep. scholars will be with us next fall, and if the club can in any way initiate them to the college ways by such an event, it will not be neglected.

In all possibility the track will be at the service of collegiate athletics throughout the whole summer if a sufficient number of men show an interest worthy of such an enterprise. In connection with this, the executive were instructed to spare no efforts to encourage an early start in training of all members, owing to the fact that the Sports Day will be Friday, October 14, a very early date in the academic session.

Coach Van Wagner and R. L. Hamilton urged the members to turn out in September, as it takes a man more than two weeks to get into training. They pointed out the necessity of cutting out habits which have a bad influence on a person while in training.

It has been suggested that added interest to the Sports Day's events will be given by sending out invitations to well-known star athletes to compete, especially to American universities. This will undoubtedly be carried out on a large scale, which will be a splendid aid to the success of the best Sports Day yet held at McGill.

RETURNED MEN HAD SMOKER LAST NIGHT

and the fans of tricky feet—when he made good with some neat foot-work.

To add tone to the proceedings, as Jimmy Rice said, Ed. McHugh sang "Macoushla." He undoubtedly deserved the many calls for an encore, and came back with the "Forty Pipers and a' and a'." with the whole hall for a chorus.

Dr. Elder was loudly cheered as he entered the hall. Inspired by the spirit of the smoker, he took the floor a couple of times and made a hit with a number of stories and reminiscences.

The executive of the Returned Men's Association are to be congratulated for bringing back one of the good old days—and delivering it with a punch.

SPECIAL THE DANCANT AT CIRO'S FOR THE R.V.C. AND MCGILL.

It looks as though the snow has disappeared for this Saturday, and as skating would be almost swimming, a The Dancant would be a happy idea. The Dancant has therefore arranged a special musical programme and invites all Senior students of McGill and the R. V. C. to participate and enjoy the privileges to-morrow afternoon from 4 to 6.30. The more the merrier, so form your parties and come and have a really good time.

"What's Your Hurry?"

"Many accidents happen because people have not the point of view of other users of the roadway," said Mr. G. A. Hodgson, the 1920 president of the Ontario Motor League and a member of the executive committee of the Ontario Safety League, speaking at the McCormick Playgrounds recently. "If the motorist could get the pedestrian's point of view and the pedestrian the motorist's point of view, I am satisfied there would be fewer accidents and fatalities. Each should know the other has rights on the street and each should respect those rights. We need throughout the whole country a campaign of safety with a new slogan, 'Courtesy First.'"

"Motorists pressed for years for increased speeds and were finally granted a speed of twenty miles in towns and cities and twenty-five in the open country. If it can be shown that this speed is a direct factor in causing accidents, organized motorists would be the first to ask for a reduction of the speed limits. Statistics show that most automobile accidents happen when the speed is less than fifteen miles per hour, so that speed is not really a factor in these accidents. Safety education is the great thing; people must be shown that accidents can be prevented and that a better spirit of co-operation between all classes will bring about a real improvement in the situation. If a person alighting from a standing street car sees a motor approaching he should not take it for granted that the automobile will stop because of the law on the subject. It is within the bounds of possibility that the driver of the motor may not have his car under proper control, and the law will not stop a skidding automobile. On the other hand, it is up to the drivers to study the situation continually on the street and be ready to stop the regulation six feet behind standing street cars. I am also opposed to the practice of some motorists of using the automobile horn as a form of harsh warning to 'get out of the way.' This has often the effect of making the pedestrian assert his rights, and again we have the unnecessary feeling of antagonism and the lack of co-operation."

"I regret," continued Mr. Hodgson, "that all motorists are not responsible drivers. I believe that the organized motorists are careful users of our highways and that they will support all reasonable legislation. The existing regulations were brought about in the interest of safety. I feel satisfied that the pedestrian will have to be regulated in the congested areas of large cities, as traffic must be kept moving safely. The pedestrian who crosses at intersections, and refuses to cross between blocks is helping to keep down the accident toll."

"Playgrounds enter largely into the question of traffic accidents, and I am of the firm opinion that money spent on playgrounds is money well invested. I am strongly opposed to the idea of setting apart certain streets as play areas at certain times of the day. The average child playing heedlessly on a protected street develops the idea that streets are safe, and it is against human nature to think a child will play on one street and keep off another. For instance, if Mrs. Jones, who lives on a protected street, takes little Willie out to another section of the city where no street is set aside for play, it is unreasonable to expect him to stay off the roadway. Let us have larger playgrounds and more of them."

"Automobile fatalities in 1920 totalled 64. This figure can be cut by 75 per cent. in 1921 if people will co-operate with this end in view. We are told that three-quarters of the fatal accidents happened to children. I tell you no legislation in the land will control the child and make him responsible. The shock is no less severe if it is the child's fault. Every driver of a vehicle must use good judgment when children are on the road or even when they are likely to be there."

"Again, I think the press is a big factor in this matter of co-operation. Each motor fatality gets a seven-column headline, 'Another Automobile Fatality.' The coroner's jury may bring in a true bill, but when the case goes before the courts and all the evidence is brought out, the motorist is usually exonerated and the press give this news a few lines. If the papers would show when the pedestrian is at fault and when the motorist is wrong this publicity would do a great deal towards wiping out much of the existing ill-feeling between pedestrians and motorists. I am both a motorist and a pedestrian, and I believe I can speak for both in making my plea for co-operation."

"Finally, I want to point out to you the vital importance of town planning in connection with street accidents. For instance, Toronto, with a population of 600,000, with over 30,000 motor cars, with thousands of wagons and street cars, has narrow roadways designed for the traffic of fifty years ago. A city with narrow streets breeds traffic accidents unless drastic action is taken. I believe we shall come to the question of taking the street cars off certain main thoroughfares and laying one way street-car lines on other streets. Above everything, though, may I plead with you for your co-operation in this question of preventing accidents, and let me bespeak your hearty support of the Safety League's campaign."

"A few days ago we had occasion to comment on ridiculous statements made by certain people in regard to the large increase in automobile fatalities," says R. B. Morley, general manager Ontario Safety League, in a statement just issued. "We now want to disabuse the minds of motorists of an idea that has sprung up lately, to wit, that 75 per cent. to 90 per cent. of the motor accidents are due to pedestrians. To hear some people talk one would think that carelessness was an attribute of the pedestrian only, but we know that carelessness, recklessness and thoughtlessness are not confined to any one class. As the Safety League's calendar for April says, 'Motorists and pedestrians owe it to themselves to go fifty-fifty on the caution stuff.' The motorist should remember that the pedestrian has less chance than the motorist; that he, therefore, cannot afford to be careless, and that in an accident involving both, the pedestrian is the person who always gets the worst of the encounter; that is to say, the driver of the automobile is always in the safer position.

"Those efficiency experts who throw the blame in their statistics on the pedestrian as a class include the children. We cannot repeat too often that children are not careless, they are carefree and there is absolutely no excuse, of any possible form or manner, that can be offered for a driver taking a chance when the children are or may be on the roadway. It makes little difference to the mother of a child killed whether the fault lay with her child or the motorist. The old and much-discussed question of speed crops up again. It is easier to stop a car at fifteen than at twenty-five miles an hour; it is easier to stop at twenty than at forty miles an hour. But let us repeat in closing that no one group has a corner on carelessness, and that it behooves any of us to try to throw the blame on the other fellow."

APOLLO GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Proceeds To Go Towards Erection of Memorial Flag-staff at Stadium.

On April 7th, a concert will be given in the R.V.C. auditorium by the Apollo Glee Club, the proceeds of which will go to the McGill Siege Artillery Draft which was recruited early in 1917. The men who formed this draft feel that they should erect some memorial for those of their number who fell overseas, so the proceeds of this entertainment will be used in buying a flag-staff. This flag-staff will be placed in the Molson Stadium, and the unveiling will take place in the spring.

The dance to be given by the 7th (McGill) Siege Battery in the Union to-night, is the last of a large number of social gatherings held by this battery to date. The association has been extremely active for the last two years, and many dances and other social events have been carried through with great success. These get-together meetings of the men who have served in France together serves to bind their friendships closer, and the concert that they purpose holding has for its object the payment of a fitting tribute to their friends who fell overseas. The entertainment which they plan to give on the seventh of next month has not only a worthy object but will prove well worth attending for the enjoyment to be derived from it. The well-known Apollo Glee Club has been secured for the occasion, and as this organization has won for itself the liveliest encomiums during the last few years, a very enjoyable evening is in store for those who attend.

A few days ago the Apollo Glee Club gave a public concert for the benefit of the University Settlement, and this is typical of the work they have done during the past few years. Since its formation in the days of the war, this club, consisting now of 37 men singers, has been steadily making definite contributions to the culture of Montreal. The members have been very generous in visiting military and other hospitals, and have, in public yearly concerts, acquainted a still larger number of people with their progress. Four hospital concerts have already been given this year, in addition to four church concerts, and the club has many more engagements to fulfil within the next few months. The club is very ably led by their new conductor, B. E. Chadwick, who comes to them with wide experience, and who has the power of getting the most out of his singers.

The tickets for this concert are $1 each, and will be put on sale Monday next.

This year the Union Cafeteria has become more than a modestly priced eating-place. It has become a centre of student activity; a rendezvous for men of every faculty in off hours as well as at meal times.

There is a reason for the sociability of these daily gatherings at The Cafeteria.

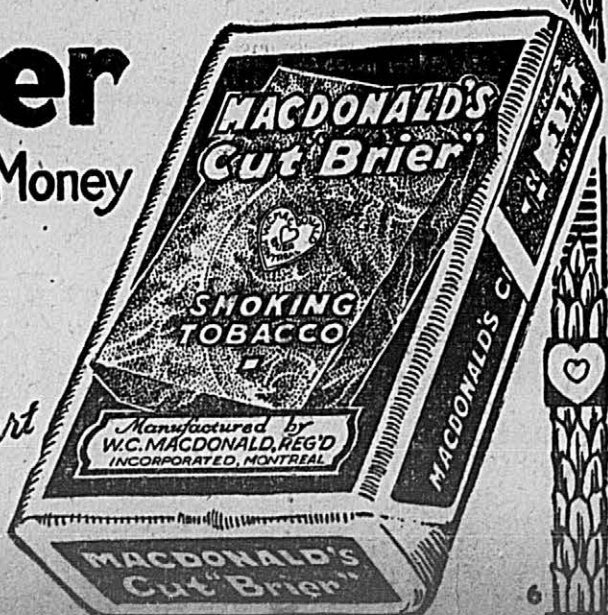

We have kept up the quality of our meals, and have kept the price down. We have made a feature of the tea hour—dainty pastries and really good tea. The result is evident.
